

Relationships to improve education

R time Champions

Year 5 and Year 6 pupils have the opportunity to help deliver R time lessons.

They complete an application form to apply for the role. Successful applicants become R Time Champions.

Roles and responsibilities include planning and teaching R time lessons and being advocates for the diamond rules.

What the children say about why we should have R time Champions:

It is very important that you learn how to respect one another because if you don't it can result in fights

It will show kindness and spread positivity.

It is important to teach R time as it develops younger children's mindsets. They learn how to deal with situations without hurting anyone.

It could possibly prepare us for the future and helps us work together and not be afraid to communicate or talk in front of other people.
